

inspired declaration that God has a personal form evermore to inhabit, as it emerges from language of another, “Can any abuse of this unasked-for gift justify the recompense of an existence spent in unending agony?”

to torments of

